What is one goal you have set for the future?

To grow my sports business.

If you could learn something new, what would it be?

To play guitar.

If you had a whole day to do whatever you wanted, what would you do?

Sleep in, play golf, eat a big lunch and then surf.

What are some of your interests or hobbies?

I like playing Madden on play station, I've been starting to play golf, enjoy surfing, and cooking.

What are some adversities you faced in middle school or high school? (i.e. bullying, peer pressure, drugs, alcohol, etc.) How did you handle these adversities?

When I first got into middle school I was bullied for my weight - I decided to live a healthier life and started to diet and play team sports. I started playing football, which I loved and where gaining weight was encouraged, but in a healthy way.

I also dealt with peer pressure in highschool and college but I knew that one bad decision or slip up could cost me everything down the road; and those reminders always helped me to stay true to myself and values.

If you could tell your younger self any piece of advice, what would it be and why?

To not try and grow up so fast and to enjoy being a kid/teen. Once you are grown up you are always grown up, and everything that comes with it. Enjoy the time you have now, get done what needs to get done, but also have fun and be happy.
